Registration

1) Registration for regular classes
2) Registration for instructor consent classes with variable credit

Registration for regular classes
If you have your UO ID (9 digit) and your new PAC you can register for a many of the classes you need.

Review the program requirements sheet and see what classes you will take. Look at the example advising plan for suggestions.

First: Log into DuckWeb

Second: Enter your UO ID (9 digit) and your new PAC

Third: Go to Student Menu → Registration Menu → Add/Drop Class

Forth: Select the class you wish to enter.

Registration for Instructor Consent Classes
To register for classes that need an instructor override (Geog 601, Geog 602, Geog 605) you need to fill out an override slip with the name, crn (course reference number), course number of the class. This slip is signed by the instructor and submitted to the department offering the class. Once you have been cleared to register, you can go to DuckWeb and enter the CRN. Most of these classes offer variable credits so you must also enter the number of credits you plan to take.

You can fill out the consent forms for GEOG 601, 602, and 605 when you get to campus and meet for advising.
